

ALZHEIMER'S DISEASE

Key facts & figures

There are 36 million people with Alzheimer's or other forms of dementia in the world

28 million people worldwide are living the condition undiagnosed

One in three seniors dies with Alzheimer's or another dementia

By 2050 it is estimated there will be 115 million people with dementia worldwide

Those living with the disease and their families pay on average £32,250 annually for social care

The total cost of Alzheimer's or another dementia worldwide is £380 billion

Alzheimer's has been called 'Type 3 diabetes', due to a possible link between brain insulin resistance and Alzheimer's